The 16th International Congress of the World Federation of Occupational Therapists

Comments from Ms. Marilyn Pattison, President of the World Federation of Occupational Therapists (WFOT)*, after the “16th International Congress of the World Federation of Occupational Therapists in collaboration with the 48th Japanese Occupational Therapy Congress and Expo” (5,905 participants from 72 countries), held from Wednesday, June 18 to Saturday, June 21, 2014 at PACIFICO Yokohama.

On behalf of the World Federation of Occupational Therapists (WFOT) I was delighted to participate in the 16th WFOT International Congress in Yokohama, Japan in June 2014.

I would urge any organization considering holding a congress in Japan to investigate the wonderful opportunities in Yokohama. Not only are the convention facilities world class, the city itself is a delightful place to visit with its many restaurants and cafes, great shopping, friendly people and a comfortable pace of life. There is an extensive range of accommodation to suit all tastes and budgets and easy access to all popular areas.

Yokohama certainly provided WFOT with a wonderful congress venue and a truly exciting cultural experience.

On behalf of the International Sociological Association (ISA), I was very pleased to participate in the XVIII ISA World Congress of Sociology which brought more than 6,000 sociologists and social scientists from 95 countries to Yokohama, Japan in July 2014.

I strongly recommend any association planning to hold an international conference to consider the friendly city of Yokohama. The conference facilities and PACIFICO Convention Center are outstanding and the city offers a wide array of restaurants and types of accommodation that can meet the diverse tastes and budgets.

Holding ISA Congress in Yokohama provided an opportunity for participants to share our research, and also to learn about the traditions, history and culture of Japan.

18th World Conference on Lung Cancer of the International Association for the Study of Lung Cancer (IASLC)

Comments from Mr. Mathias Posch, a globally renowned figure in the PCO industry, as President of International Conference Services (ICS)* and President of the International Association of Professional Congress Organisers (IAPCO)*, after the “IASLC 18th World Conference on Lung Cancer” (6,764 participants from 82 countries), held from Sunday, October 15 to Wednesday, October 18, 2017 at PACIFICO Yokohama.

We organized the 2017 World Conference on Lung Cancer at PACIFICO Yokohama, which was attended by approximately 7,000 participants, where we were able to experience the wonderful city and exceptional convention facilities firsthand. Yokohama proved to be the ideal conference destination, with its convenient access from both Haneda and Narita airports for our overseas delegates while also offering a variety of attractive activities nearby for all. Not only were the staff members at PACIFICO Yokohama flexible and attentive to our needs, but wonderful hospitality and excellent services were offered by the entire Team Yokohama, including those at the InterContinental Hotel and other members from various related operators, making our conference experience in Yokohama particularly memorable. The Japanese spirit of “Omotenashi” hospitality is truly one of a kind, and in our post-conference survey, many of the respondents agreed that Japan, and especially Yokohama, is a superb destination for international conferences such as ours.
